OFFERING ENVELOPE DELIVERY DELAYED

It is very possible that your next packet of offering envelopes will be delayed due to our supplier's malfunction in the printing equipment. We are not sure when this will be resolved. Until then, please put your contribution in any envelope with your name printed on it. Include your parish and envelope number. If you do not remember your envelope number, contact the Central Office at 716-372-4841 Ext. 116 or Katie@emcatholic.org.

Looking forward, we are in the process of ordering annual boxed sets of envelopes from a different supplier. This will give you all the envelopes for the whole year starting with the new fiscal year in September. We are sorry for the inconvenience and concern this may have caused. Thank you for your understanding and continued stewardship. In the meantime, we will also post 2nd collection notifications in the bulletin.

WELCOME to Enchanted Mountains Catholic Community!

If you are looking for a church to call your own, we invite you to fill out the form below to receive a New Registration or if your contact info has changed. Place the form in the offertory basket or mail it to the Central Office.

LITURGICAL MINISTRY HELP NEEDED

Reader/Sacristan needed for the Weekday Basilica Mass. Join the team and serve for one week per month. Training will be provided.

A week ago, Monday, I had come home from the hospital to find three men huddled under my extended garage area. They told me that they just arrived in Olean by bus from New Jersey. One was a newly ordained transitional deacon; one was a 21-year-old college grad; and one was a 54-year-old married man. They were from different parishes and hardly knew each other. Their mission for the week was to go to several places to preach the Good News of Jesus!

I thought I was in an episode of The Chosen! They told me that they had no money, no cell phone and had no place to sleep. They were told to rely on the Providence of God through the goodness of the people they would encounter. All they had was a bus ticket to leave Olean on Saturday morning to go back to New Jersey. Once back in New Jersey, they would meet up with the other groups at Mass on Sunday and talk about their experiences.

These individuals are part of the Neocatechumenal Way. They participated in a retreat in the Archdiocese of Newark, which sent them out throughout our Diocese of Buffalo and other areas of our Country to preach the Gospel—first to priests and then to everyone else.

I interacted with the three fellows during the week as they made their way around the areas of Olean, Allegany and Salamanca. They prayed with the friars on the campus of Bonaventure, visited the Motherhouse, visited the Warming House, and went to Mass at the Basilica, St. John's, and St. Bonaventure. However, the bulk of their time they walked the streets and talked to the people they would encounter.

I met up with them several times during the week to talk about their experiences and to take them to Tim Horton's or Perkin's for a meal. They found many people were willing to listen to them and to talk to them. One thing they related to me was the number of homeless people we have on the streets of Olean. Many more than I realized. As they spoke to them about the love of God, most did not believe God loved them. They saw faces reflecting sadness and unhappiness, resigned to their lot in life. This bothered the 21-year-old who saw how he grew up in a comfortable home and a family who loved him. (He is thinking of going on a year mission to a foreign country).

Their week profoundly changed how they saw their lives through the eyes of Christ. They had to give up EVERYTHING to encounter the reflection of Christ within them. They had to let go of their thoughts and their agenda to trust in Christ COMPLETELY. They had to surrender their will to embrace the Divine Will (leading them) which dwelt within them.

They had fears "of how this would play out" at the beginning of the week. They encountered the "goodness of God" as the week progressed. They found "their true self" as they gave themselves over to God and to others.

As St. Paul said in his letter to the Romans: "We know that all creation is groaning in labor pains even until now; and not only that, but we ourselves, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, we also groan within ourselves as we wait for adoption, the redemption of our bodies."

The Kingdom of God already dwells in our hearts as the baptized. Yet, we often "groan within ourselves" because we drown out the voice of the Holy Spirit with the noise of the world and with the noise of our own thoughts and desires. We need to step back from everything each day and center ourselves in the silence of our hearts. We need to listen for the voice of Jesus who will teach us how to "love one another as He has loved us." This is not a warm, fuzzy love but a constant "forgetting of me, myself and I" to reflect the life of Jesus in all that we do. How much are you willing to give up (to die to self) to find yourself in Christ?

Please keep our recent visiting missionary friends in your prayers.

Rev. David

JULY INTENTION: For Respect for Human Life
Let us pray for the respect and protection of human life in all its stages, recognizing it as a gift from God.

16th Sunday in Ordinary Time:

Wisdom 12:13, 16-19: This passage offers two different points of reflection. It stands as a tribute to God's mercy, but also serves as a warning not to be presumptuous of that mercy, by boldly repeating serious sins that one knows are wrong and even evil. God's compassion, mercy and reluctance to punish humankind are well-known. God is proclaimed as just and fair, but stubborn and presumptuous sinners are warned that their "temerity," or foolish boldness will bring upon them God's anger and vindictive justice. In this passage, our God is presented as the ultimate authoritative parent; warm, merciful and compassionate, but fair, just and assertively giving punishment when defied and/or disrespected. Our God is an awesome God… loving, kind and merciful, but not to be taken for granted or disobeyed… a reasonable God!

Psalm 86: "Lord, You are good and forgiving." We must never forget that our God is a God of mercy and forgiveness; welcoming us with open arms when we sincerely repent of our sins. We must also keep in mind that our God is the God of all nations and peoples, though some people have yet to meet our God. Hopefully, we resemble our God and emulate God's goodness, so that others can perceive God's Presence within us. Much of what we learn about God comes from perceiving God's inspiration and influence in others around us. Before approaching God for forgiveness, we must first examine our conscience and pray for true repentance. Our God looks at our hearts and knows us better than we know ourselves. That's comforting and sobering.

Romans 8:26-27: God is so mighty and great… so pure and holy! It makes sense that, realizing our sinfulness, we might feel awkward and afraid to approach our God, in prayer. St. Paul is urging us to approach God with reverence and respect, but with trust instead of paralyzing fear. We're being reassured that our God will even pray for us! When words fail to describe our spiritual needs, the Holy Spirit will express our prayer needs in groaning for us! We can all relate to this. Sometimes, when we're most overwhelmed, groaning works better than words to express our sorrow, stress and suffering. Our groaning is understood!

Matt 13:24-33: The parable of the weeds and the wheat depicts so beautifully the "spiritual gardens" or environmental situations which we all might find ourselves in, in life. When the "plants" or relationships are newly sprouted and young, it can be very difficult to distinguish the weeds from the plants we desire and cultivated. Only towards maturity in their life-cycle can we identify which plants are a fruitful crop and which are worthless weeds. Isn't it like that with the people in life? It can be difficult to distinguish who is our friend and advocate and who might be working against us. Sometimes, only time will tell.

It makes sense for us to pray to surround ourselves with "wheat;" good spiritual companionship. If we become aware that some people around us are "weeds;" it would be prudent to limit contact with them or set up healthy boundaries, so that we have room to grow in the manner that God has intended. Spiritual growth, like the mustard seed, starts small. Let's trust in God, "The Divine Farmer" to nurture us and create ultimate conditions fostering our growth. Trust in God!

Ponderously,
Deacon Matt

WANTED: ROSARY MAKERS

WHY

This September 2026, our Catholic Church in the USA will experience a historic moment: the beatification of Venerable Fulton J. Sheen. To honor his incredible legacy, we are answering a massive call to action. We are helping to hand-make World Mission Rosaries to distribute to everyone attending the beatification.

WHAT

What is a World Mission Rosary? The World Mission Rosary is a special version of the traditional Catholic rosary created by Archbishop Sheen in 1951.
It features multi-colored beads to represent specific continents to encourage prayers for the whole world and for missionaries.

HOW

Learn to knot and bead these beautiful, multi-colored rosaries. No experience is needed. We will provide the step-by-step instructions, tools and supplies -- all FREE. Plan for a one hour time frame.

WHO

What a great faith-filled craft to share with family, friends or as a ministry activity! Looking to foster prayer in the family? Want to learn more about the rosary?
